After 20 years in positions of institutional review board (IRB) leadership, the last 16 of them at UNC, Dan Nelson is leaving to accept a position at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Dan holds a unique perspective on the IRB world, both locally and nationally, and we invited him to reflect on his experience in this session. Topics will include the evolution of the research environment and the IRBs that oversee that research, current challenges, and predictions for the future.
