

Clinical Ethics Special Event

Moral Distress Workshops

Beth Epstein,
PhD, RN, FAAN

Associate Professor, University of Virginia School of Nursing; UVA
Center for Biomedical Ethics and Humanities

Thursday,
March 15, 2018

2-hour workshops:
10am-12, 1-3pm,
or 3-5pm

Registration Required

What is Moral Distress?

Moral distress, now a well-recognized phenomenon among all of the healthcare professions, occurs when providers believe they are doing something morally wrong but have little power to act differently or to change the situation. As a result, they feel that they are compromising their own moral integrity as well as their ability to protect patients and care for them appropriately.

-Hamric & Epstein, 2017

Each workshop offers participants an opportunity to engage with an expert in moral distress in order to identify key concepts, discuss case examples, and develop skills for their own practice.

We hope you can join us!

For more information please visit: <https://bioethics.unc.edu/talk/moral-distress-workshops/>